To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing this letter to introduce and recommend Mike Marsteller to you as a resource for your school. I first met Mike when I saw him speak to a group of student athletes and I was most impressed with how well he connected with them. He has a very sincere, thoughtful, and empathetic approach that meets students at their perspective and guides them through the life skills they need in order to achieve their goals.

After seeing him speak, I hired him to come to Whitehall High School and speak to our student council and other student leaders within the school. Mike took the time to really learn about the group and understand what we were looking to accomplish. He delivered an excellent presentation that gave our students new insight and skills they can use as leaders within our school and community. He also stayed afterwards to talk with every student individually who wanted to ask him questions.

One thing that really intrigues me about Mike is his genuine heartfelt compassion for others. He has an incredible story about overcoming his own obstacles as a teenager that eventually led him to start his non-profit organization to help families impacted by cancer. His message about resilience and turning obstacles into opportunities is exactly what high school students need to be hearing as they navigate through life.

If you are looking to plan an assembly program or bring in a speaker, I highly recommend Mike as your top choice. He will bring value to your students and leave a lasting impression that helps prepare them for what's next.

Please do not hesitate to contact me at Whitehall High School with any further questions regarding Mike Marsteller.

Sincerely,
